DETAILED ACTION

This Non-Final Office Action is responsive to the communication received August 7, 2003. Claims 1-4 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1, drawn to a complex of the kDa Ca++ binding protein p11 and hepatitis B virus polymerase (HBVPol), classified in class 424, subclass 196.11.
- II. Claims 2 and 3, drawn to a method for controlling movement of the HBVPol/p11 complex into the HepG2 cell nucleus comprising administering an agent that increases the intracellular concentration in the HepG2, classified in class 435, subclass 235.1.
- II. Claims 2 and 4, drawn to a method for controlling movement of the HBVPol/p11 complex into the HepG2 cell nucleus comprising administering an agent that increases the intracellular concentration in the HepG2, classified in class 435, subclass 235.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Invention I is related to Inventions II and III as products and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of Invention I can be placed on a column for isolating HBV antibody. This is a materially different process than controlling the movement of the complex into the nucleus of HepG2 cells. Thus, restricting prosecution between Invention I and Inventions II and III is proper.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). Here, the Inventions II and III cannot be used together because they involve opposite effects. That is, Invention II increase HepG2 intracellular  $\text{Ca}^{2+}$  concentration, while Invention II decreases it. This difference also provides the inventions with different modes of operation as Inventions II and III induce opposite effects in HepG2 cells. This shows that the inventions are unrelated and that restriction as to Inventions II and III is proper.

Claim 2 links Inventions II and III. The restriction requirement of the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim, claim 2. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for any one group would not reveal art for the others, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
